ABOUT ME

Front-End developer and English/Spanish translator with previous experience working in group projects for open-source IT communities. I enjoy creating applications and websites that are accessible and interactive. I aim to learn and improve my skills on the latest web technologies and challenge myself every day to learn something new and become a more effective developer.

EXPERIENCE

React Developer

WIP-IT | Oct. 2021 - Mar. 2022

I have worked as a front-end developer for a startup company that developed an application that is used by recruiters across various countries.

My main responsibilities included developing and testing new features for the application and their time estimation. Most of them were related to the UI of the app.

Freelance Web Developer

AO COPIERS | Dec. 2020 - Apr. 2021

I built and maintain the company website implementing responsive design for mobile and tablet.

Volunteer Translator

FREECODECAMP | Feb. 2021 - Present

I contributed to the open-source community with translations of technical articles, proofreading, and correction of articles.
